

“Sell Out” of the East – West German Antiques Dealer in Bad Kösen (March 1990)

Abstract

After the fall of the Wall, many West Germans sensed good business opportunities in the East, which was at an economic disadvantage. For example, more and more antiques dealers surfaced in the East; they bought old furniture and other antiques from East German citizens at bargain prices and sold them at a profit in West Germany.

Source

Source: picture-alliance/ZB (c) dpa-Report

Recommended Citation: “Sell Out” of the East – West German Antiques Dealer in Bad Kösen (March 1990), published in: German History in Documents and Images, <https://germanhistorydocs.org/en/a-new-germany-1990-2023/ghdi:image-3074> [November 06, 2024].