

Felicitas von Freyberg (1553)

Abstract

---

Felicitas von Freyberg (1492-after 1553) was the wife of Leonhard von Eck (1480-1550), a Bavarian nobleman who served as chancellor of Bavaria for thirty years. The woodcut below is one of two pendant portraits she commissioned after her husband's death in 1550.

Source

---

Source: Hanns Lautensack, Felicitas von Freyberg (1553), Collection Edmond de Rothschild, Musée du Louvre/ Philippe Fuzeau, available online at: <https://collections.louvre.fr/en/ark:/53355/cl020576643#>

Recommended Citation: Felicitas von Freyberg (1553), published in: German History in Documents and Images, <<https://germanhistorydocs.org/en/from-the-reformations-to-the-thirty-years-war-1500-1648/ghdi:image-3265>> [April 02, 2025].