

Johann Erasmus Kindermann, Fried, wo bist so lang geblieben (1642)

Abstract

Johann Erasmus Kindermann (1616-1655) was an organist and composer who lived in the imperial city of Nuremberg during the Thirty Years' War. While the city was never under siege, the region surrounding it was devastated by years of warfare. In 1642 Kindermann published a collection of vocal music compositions titled Musicalische Friedens Seufftzer [Musical Pleas for Peace], including this piece, "Peace, where have you been so long."

Source

Source: Johann Erasmus Kindermann, "Fried wo bist so lang geblieben," in Musicalische Friedens Seufftzer, Nuremberg 1642. Performed by the Ensemble Weser-Renaissance Bremen, Manfred Cordes, conductor.

Recommended Citation: Johann Erasmus Kindermann, Fried, wo bist so lang geblieben (1642), published in: German History in Documents and Images, <<https://germanhistorydocs.org/en/from-the-reformations-to-the-thirty-years-war-1500-1648/ghdi:audio-5074>> [April 03, 2025].