

View of Würzburg (1493)

Abstract

The seat of a powerful Franconian prince-bishop who resided there, the Marienburg in Würzburg, shown below, was one of the strongest fortifications in southern Germany.

Source

Source: Herbipolis (Würzburg), woodcut by Michael Wolgemut, Liber Chronicarum, 1493, Folio CLX, Drew University copy, cropped, Internet Archive, ark:/13960/t6b39g779

Recommended Citation: View of Würzburg (1493), published in: German History in Documents and Images, <<https://germanhistorydocs.org/en/from-the-reformations-to-the-thirty-years-war-1500-1648/ghdi:image-3282>> [April 03, 2025].