

Open Air Mass in Munich (1958)

Abstract

After the collapse of the Third Reich, Germany experienced a brief but intensive phase of religious renewal and an accompanying turn toward Christianity. In West Germany, the Catholic Church played an important public role in the immediate postwar period because it seemed to have been less corrupted by National Socialism than other religious and cultural entities. This photo shows Cardinal Joseph Wendel celebrating a pontifical mass on Marienplatz in Munich. Photo by Felicitas Timpe.

Source

Source: Open air pontifical mass on Marienplatz in Munich, celebrated by Cardinal Joseph Wendel. Date: 1958. Photo: Felicitas Timpe.

bpk-Bildagentur, image number 30008413. For rights inquiries, please contact Art Resource at requests@artres.com (North America) or bpk-Bildagentur at kontakt@bpk-bildagentur.de (for all other countries).

© bpk/ Felicitas Timpe

Recommended Citation: Open Air Mass in Munich (1958), published in: German History in Documents and Images, <https://germanhistorydocs.org/en/two-germanies-1961-1989/ghdi:image-131> [April 27, 2024].