

Dr. Opel Presides as the 10,000th Opel Rolls off the Line (1931)

Abstract

---

Opel was the first German car manufacturer to shift from workshop to assembly line production. The first car manufactured was the two seat, green and black 4/12 PS, known as the “Laubfrosch” [Tree Frog]. The car remained in production, with variations and improvements, until 1931.
